- Article 1 The following Regulations have been established by National Chengchi University (NCCU) to reward outstanding undergraduate students for academic achievement and above-average grades in a semester.
- Article 2 Students who rank in the top 5% (rounded up unconditionally) in their department and year in a semester shall be given a scholarship of NT$4,000 and a certificate.
- If two or more students have earned the same grade point average in a semester and thus are qualified for the final spot granted by each department and course, the quota shall be expanded.
- Article 3 A student who meets the regulations in the preceding article shall not be rewarded and the vacancy shall not be given to another student in any of the following circumstances:
1. A student who has withdrawn from study for the following semester.
 2. A student who has failed or fails to pass any of his/her subjects; however, education training and practical training courses for students with scholarships is not included.
- A student who has extended his/her duration of study.
- Article 4 The outstanding undergraduate student list by registration section at office of academic affairs and will be approved by principal in a month after classes begin every semester.
- Article 5 The rewards specified in Article 2 shall be processed in accordance with the following methods:
1. The certificate shall be presented in a public gathering for each department.
 2. The scholarship funds shall be transferred into the designated deposit account of the student receiving the award. A student who does not have information for a designated account will be notified through email or SMS; if the student fails to provide account information within one month of the notification, the student shall be deemed as having waived the scholarship and it shall not be distributed.

Article 6 These guidelines have been implemented with approval sought from an Administration Meeting.
