Article 1 National Chengchi University (NCCU or “the University”) formulates the NCCU Directives for English Proficiency Test Rewards (“the Directives”) to encourage students to improve their English proficiency and participate in English proficiency tests.

Article 2 The recipient of the Directives are students of the University who hold R.O.C nationality and are enrolled in the current semester (excluding students enrolled in in-service programs and doctoral programs).

Article 3 Students who participate in English proficiency tests during their study period and whose test results in listening, reading, speaking, and writing all meet the standards of the University’s Table of English Proficiency Tests and Corresponding Reward Levels (appendix), may be rewarded according to the met standards.

Students shall apply during their study period, and each student may receive the reward only once.

Students who take the BEST Test of English Proficiency (BESTEP) will have their rewards processed and disbursed directly by the University through a compiled list, with the caveat that rewards for the same proficiency level are limited to once per person.

Article 4 First-year students who participate in and apply before the end of their second semester, with results meeting the required standards in listening, reading, speaking, and writing, may receive an additional NT$ 1,000 as a Freshmen BESTEP English Proficiency Reward. The reward will be processed and disbursed directly by the University through a compiled list.

Article 5 The application documents for the rewards are as follows:

1. Application form for English Proficiency Test Rewards
2. Certificate or transcript of English proficiency test (The original document will be returned after verification.)
3. If the name on the certificate or transcript is in English, please provide additional documentation to verify the English name (e.g., passport).

Students shall obtain all the documents listed above at the time of application.

Article 6 The application shall be processed according to the schedule and submission procedures announced by Office of Academic Affairs each semester.

Article 7 The rewards in the Directives are funded by the Ministry of Education's Program on Bilingual Education for Students in College (BEST), other government subsidies or the University's self-raised funds. The actual reward amounts and quotas will be determined based on the annual budget. In the event of budget interruptions or reductions, the University reserves the right to suspend or reduce the scale of the rewards.

Article 8 The Directives shall be passed by the Bilingual Education and Multicultural Promotion Committee and submitted to the President of the University for approval, and then promulgated and implemented. Any amendments shall be processed accordingly.
